IMPEACH HIM, IF YOU DARE!

A Democratic Yell of Defiance, such as has not been indulged in for the Last Eight Years.

DIS-RESPECTFULLY DEDICATED TO ASHLEY, BUTLER, CONOVER & CO.

The voice of old Connecticut reached California's shore;
Pacific's voice re-echoed then the Democratic roar
That from Atlantic's banks arose, and Rads with anguish hear
The Democratic masses shriek, "Impeach him, if you dare!"

Day California's glittering shores swells out the ch[orus] and refrain,
[Peo]ple are enfranchised, we're freemen once again,
And the stalwart old Democracy, in solid phalanx there,
In deaf'ning tones to Ashley yell, "Impeach him, if you dare."

God bless the boys of old Kentuck, they loud the chorus swell,
And warmly, earnestly rebuke that conclave sprung from Hell,
That loudly of impeachment talked, while now, with gibe and jeer,
They say to them, "You thieving sneaks, impeach him, if you dare!"

Now, disenthralled, Old Maryland her colors true has shown,
And the principles of force and fraud to the four winds are thrown,
While Baltimore redeems herself, and, with exultant cheer,
Defiantly the Old Line sneers, "impeach him, if you dare!"

Anon upon Ohio's banks, a cohort is in sight,
The clans have gathered, on they come who battle for the right,
They bury "negro suffrage" and "tinselled satraps" there
And haughtily to Ashley say, "impeach him, if you dare!"

Great Pennsylvania swells the note, "my policy" has won,
And tyranny and anarchy, their toilsome race have run,
And millions now of Democrats, whose voices rend the air,
In trumpet tones to Ashley say, "impeach him, if you dare."

Let Sickles gabble in the North or do what e'er he will Let Treason give ovations to its hybrid "little Phil,"
Let the martyr—Stanton—bellow, his rantings can't ensnare
The men who love one Union, so, "impeach him if you dare."

Let Ashley threaten as he will, and let Beast Butler roar
The people's voice has muzzled them, they'll trouble us no more,
We'll hold them up to public scorn, and let them moaning hear,
The people saying tauntingly, "impeach him, if you dare."

Old Ben Wade's hopes are blasted, the Presidential chair
Is quick receding from his view and vanishes in air;
The German vote has "bottled" him, he tackled Lager Beer,
And Teutons—freemen, now exclaim, "impeach him, if you dare!"

A million hearts as stout as oak stand foremost in the van,
And boldly bid defiance to the Puritanic clan;
In serried column on they come, they know no doubt or fear,
And Ashley trembling hears them say, "impeach him, if you dare."

The Constitution and the laws have made him President,
And in the White House he'll remain, till fiendish fury's spent
He's noble, brave, and firm and true, the people want him there,
And thundering tones to Ashley say, "impeach him, if you dare!"

KINGS AND HEROES.

One murder makes a villain—
Millions a hero: Princes are privileg'd
To kill, and numbers sanctify the crime.
Ah! why will Kings forget that they are men?
And men that they are brethren? Why delight
In human sacrifice? Why burst the ties
Of nature, that should knit their souls together
In one soft bond of amity and love?
They yet still breathe destruction, still go on
Inhumanly ingenious, to find out
New pains for life, new terrors for the grave!
Artificers of death! Still monarchs dream
Of universal empire, growing up
From universal ruin. Blast the design,
Great God of hosts! nor let thy creatures fall
Unpitied victims, at ambition's shrine.

AN AGENT OF THE LORD.—Deacon Simes was an austere man who followed oystering and was of hardshell persuasion. The deacon 'allus made it a pint' to tell his coustomers that the money which he received for 'isters' did not belong to him. "The good father made the 'isters," said the deacon, 'and the money is his'n; I'm only a stooart.' One Sunday morning the old fellow was tearing round from house to house with a suspicious bit of currency in his hand, and more than a suspicion of rage in his face. Some one had given him a bad fifty cents, and he 'was'nt goin' to meetin' till that ar was fixed up.' 'Why deacon,' said one of his customers, whom he had tackled about it, 'what's the odds? what need you care? tisn't yours, you know; you are only a steward; it isn't your loss.' The deacon shifted his shoulder, walked to the door, unshipped his quid, and said, 'Yaas, that's so; but if you think that I'm goin' to stand by and see the Lord cheated out of fifty cents, you are mistaken. I don't foster no such feelin'.'

A GOOD LADY, who had two children sick with the measles, wrote to a friend for the best remedy. The friend had just received a note from another lady, inquiring the way to make pickles. In the confusion, the lady who had inquired about the pickles received the remedy for the measles, and the anxious mother of the sick children read with horror the following: "Scald them three or four times in very hot vinegar, and sprinkle them with salt, and in a few days they will be cured."

A LIFE INSURANCE CASE.

Attempted Fraud--A Singular Story.

A curious life insurance case was tried in Philadelphia, before Judge Sharswood last week. One Elias Charles Richards, in the Summer of 1865, obtained a policy of insurance for $10,000 in the American Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia. Subsequently the policy was assigned to Edward S. Connor, and by him suit was brought against the company for the recovery of the entire amount of $10,000. The plaintiff alleges that Richards was drowned on the evening of September 15, 1865, in the Susquehanna river, near Perryville. The defendants denied this, and maintained that the man is now alive.

The testimony adduced on the trial exhibited a series of circumstances and manuevers of the most interesting character. No starting point could be found for the man Richards. He came from nowhere, belonged nowhere, had no family, no relatives, no friends, no business, no money—a regular "Topsy" of the masculine gender. He was picked up by the agent, who insured him somewhere in Philadelphia—he couldn't tell where—taken down to Maryland, and there the papers were made out and insurance effected to the extent of $20,000, $10,000 being in the Charter Oak. This was in June. Richards stayed in that neighborhood a few days, went away, and returned again in the night of the 14th of September. On the two previous occasions he wore a broadcloth suit and carried a gold watch. On his last visit he had linen clothing much worn, straw hat, old shoes, with no money, no watch nor luggage of any kind. He had bargained for a farm, and through the same agent who insured him he succeeded in obtaining $2,000 on his policies of $20,000 of Mr. Connor. One thousand dollars of this money he paid to the agent, and received a bond for a deed.

On the evening of the 15th of September this Richards proposed to two men, after finding out that one could not swim and that the other would'nt, to take a walk with him along the bank of the river. They went with him. He insisted upon going into the water. They went out upon a raft lying behind a wooded point of land, and Richards went in to bathe. He swam about near to the boat for some time, and then got up on the timbers. After a while Richards said he hadn't swam enough, and would go in again, and said he might get the cramps, and if he did, he wished them to come to his assistance. It was now quite dark. He went in again, and this time swam directly away from the float, and when about forty yards off cried out that he had the cramps. The two men were frightened and ran for a boat. When they returned they could neither see nor hear anything of Richards, and, therefore, believed him drowned. This was the evidence on the part of the plaintiff, except the testimony of one individual that he thought he saw the body of a man floating on the water some eight days after the drowning, but which was proved to be a hoop covered with weeds and grass.

The defendants offered in testimony the peculiar circumstances attending the effecting of the insurance, the singular conduct of the man, his appearance in the hot Summer in woolen clothes and in September in a thin and wornout Summer suit, and the time and method of his going into the river to bathe, as indicating fraud, premeditated and most systematically arranged and perpetrated. They also produced the testimony of two witnesses, one of whom had seen this same Richards once and the other three times since the alleged drowning.

The case goes over to another trial.

Of course, when the doctors disagree editors cannot undertake to decide. Yet we would take this occasion to say that life insurance companies cannot be too watchful in guarding against fraud and misrepresentation. Nearly the entire benefits of life insurance accrue to widows and orphans. It is, therefore, the interest of all husbands and fathers who are insured that these institutions should be protected against fraud, so that they will be able to meet the liabilities arising from all honest and legiti mate insurances.

During the past two years, says a Philadelphia paper, many attempts have been made to swindle life insurance companies. In Illinois an insured man sent some other person's dead body as his representative to the grave, while he stayed back to collect the policy. In Cincinnati a man buried a lot of willow sticks for the same purpose; and a variety of singular contrivances have been made to this end in different sections of the country, which seem to indicate that a regular systematic organization has been effected to defraud these benevolent institutions.

ABOUT HATING.—Hate not. It is not worth while. Your life is not long enough to make it pay to cherish ill will or hard thoughts toward any one. What if that man has cheated you, or that woman has played you false?—What if this friend has forsaken you in your time of need, or that one having won your entire confidence, has, concluded that she prefers to treat you as a stranger? Let it all pass. What difference will it make to you in a few years, when you go hence to the "undiscovered country?" All who ill-treat you now will be more sorry for it then than you, even in your grief and disappointment, can be.

SOLILOQUY OF A BONDHOLDER.

Five, ten, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, thirty-five, forty, forty-five, fifty—

Fifty thousand dollars in seven-twenty bonds. Let us see:—

	$50,000 00
Interest at 8 per cent.	8
	$4,000 00

And in gold. That is equal to SEVEN thousand dollars in greenbacks.

Ah, this is nice!

And there are the other bonds. Let me count over to-day, then I will cut off the coupons, and to morrow go to the National Bank and draw my interest:—

I have seven twenties,	$50,000 00
" six-forties,	50,000 00
" seven-thirties,	50,000 00
" ten-twenties,	40,000 00
Total,	$190,000 00

Here is a nice little total of one hundred and ninety thousand dollors invested in the rich man's comfort, United States bonds, interest payable in gold, and no taxes to pay on bonds or interest.

	$190,000 00
Interest in gold equal to 11 per cent. in greenbacks	11
	$20,900 00

Twenty thousand and nine hundred dollars the poor men of this country are willing to pay me for living with them.

Ha! ha! ha! But the national debt is a national blessing!

I like bonds. All of us New England patriots like bonds. We have no taxes to pay on them, not a tax. Rather sharp fighting that was.

Yankees are good at whittling—good at skinning!

The war was a god-send to me. I filled quotas and speculated in things. I made money—lots of it—invested in bonds—and I am now rich.

I own this elegant house. This furniture was conquered from the cowardly rebels. These chairs, books, pictures mirrors,—all this furniture was confiscated and slipped to me on the sly.

Bully for patriotism!

Good morning, bleeding country!

Long live the enduring people!

I went to no war—not one—not any. It was a better game to control legislation—to figure for contracts—to pass a law that United States bonds should be exempt from taxation, and that the interest should be paid in gold.

Gold is Democracy—I detest Democracy, but the gold part is worth saving!

I pay no taxes!

Not a tax.

I love that Congress—that good Radical Congress—that gay, festive, and rebel-shouting Congress. It protects intellect and puts the clamps on muscle!

It exempts us bondholders from all taxation.

The tax collector never bothers me. Thank the Congress, the Devil, or somebody, I am not called on to pay taxes.

Let the poor folks, the working men, the soldiers who fought, the farmers of the West, the miners of the farther West, pay taxes.

New England is cunning!

New England is wealthy!

New England is boss—the West and South are victims!

I like it. All of us bondholders like it.

The poor people support me in idleness.

They pay the money that makes my interest.

They support the army, the navy, the government, the negroes, the bondholders, and can have what there is left and get rich if they can.

I am a Bond Holder. The credit of the nation protects me. The fools of America, the cowards who dare not lift the chains from their necks—the toiling millions of America, are my slaves, and now that we control Congress and the army, they shall remain our slaves.

Indeed! A national debt is a national blessing—to us sharpers and aristocrats.

The South may starve—
The West may toil—
The States may fail—
The Territories may suffer—
The well may work—
The sick men may want—
The orphans may wail—
The widows may weep—
The poor men, the farmers, the mechanics, the foresters and miners may pay taxes—FOR, A FEW OF US ARE MASTERS!

SWINDLING THE FREEDMEN.

A Georgia correspondent of the New York World says: Almost at the first opening of this choice field for rascality, the clergy—shame on the broken down philanthropists and debauched chaplians who usurped the name—took the lead. Slave marriages being temporary arrangements, it occurred to these reverend vultures that all parties living in such union, after emancipation, must be immediately remarried, secundum artem, or run incontinently the risk of eternal reprobation. To enforce this view the negroes were forthwith assailed by a whole armory of texts, wherein were set forth the guilt and awful punishment of adultery, and then adjured, while it was yet day, to flee from the wrath to come. Half terrified by such a volley of doctrine let fly about their ears, and half flattered at so kind a solicitude in their behalf, the freedmen and freed women—for this was before they conceived such a distaste to matrimony as a closer inspection of its obligations has since engendered—came up to the scratch and were duly united, to their great content and the full satisfaction of their reverend advisers. Fees, of course, were expected and exacted—at first one dollar per couple, and then, as it was found how gullible the poor things were, a dollar each—and at this business much money was made, one reverend iniquity alone clearing, it is said, in South Carolina, the comfortable sum of two thousand dollars.

Concurrent with this device was the emancipation-paper dodge, whereby writings purporting to forever protect the holder against enslavement, were sold to the newly enfranchised at any price from five or ten dollars down to a quarter of a dollar, that it was possible to get. Matrimony becoming distasteful and fear of re-enslavement disappearing, some new scheme was necessary, and this was forthwith presented in the guise of a pretended imminent confiscation and redivision of rebel lands. This rascality in all its numberless moods and tenses, has proved the most continuously lucrative of all, and is even now made the means of successful swindling. In the negro mind "writings" are things of superstitious reverence, and with a due proportion of flourishes and a proper expenditure of red tape and revenue stamps, there are few papers that may not be foisted upon ninety-nine out of every hundred among the freedmen, as conferring special privleges and being of great value. As deeds to plantations or houses, or as protection from prosecutions in the courts, or as gifting with titles, or as in some way or another producing immense benefit, "writings" have ready sale, and are laying the foundation of more than one scoundrelly fortune. In addition, too, to "titles," sticks, even, have been disposed of, their use being to stake off the estate when "buckra" was finally ousted. Collections at churches and at camp meetings, initiation fees, contribution and subscription lists, these last appeal to flatter their vanity, instalment payments for things never intended to be finished, and other such devices, are but some of the many ways of sucking the freedmen teat. Poor creatures, my heart has bled for them, and bled all the more that there is no remedy for this spoliation. Nothing but intelligence will foil the sharper, and intelligence the benighted freedmen, launched fresh on his own resources from a state of absolute dependence, does not possess.

A PITHY AND AMUSING ANECDOTE.

The French dress a satire in better style than any other people. We have a capital story from the last Courier des Etats Unis which happily illustrates this fact.

In speaking of the woman Frigard, the murderess, lately tried in Melun, France, the Temps asks if an advocate who defends a guilty (sclerat) can act in good faith? He answers the question by relating the following anecdote:

A lawyer who had figured with some distinction in the National Assemblies of the Republic, recounted to us in the following terms his debut: "I was young and unsuspecting," said he, "when I pleaded my first cause. It was that of a peasant charged with stealing a watch. The papers in the case, the insufficiency of the evidence, and, above all, the air of the accused—which was that of a good man—had convinced me of the innocence of my client. I pleaded with all the warmth of soul which could be inspired by this strong faith, and acquitted the peasant. Once free, he cast his arms around me:

"Oh, Monsiar," said he, "you spoke well. My children shall be taught to bless you. There is one more service whice you must do for me."

"Which is it?"

"Dig up the watch for me."

Dig up the watch for you?"

"Certainly: You understand that they still keep ther eyes on me, whilst you, in your promenade, can dig it up with your little cane and return it to me.

"Miserable wretch! then you are guilty?"

"What! didn't you know it? If I hadn't been guilty I should have dispensed with a lawyer and been my own advocate!"

RUSTIC COURTSHIP.—I hitched my chair close up to her'n, shet my eyes and shuddering sed:

Sally, I've been hankering after you for a long time—that's so, I love you from the foot of your sole, to the head of your crown, and I don't keer who nose it—Epluribus onions.

With that she fetched a screech, and after a while she sez:

"Uriah!"

"Sally," sez I.

"Yes," sez she, hidin' her face.

"Glory, glory!" sez I, "I kin jump a ten-rail fence. Hooray—hooray!"

With that I sorter sloshed myself down by her and clinched. Talk about your night blooming serious! Oh, my!—Oh broom-straw with sorgum lasses on em! Ef Sally's father hadn't hollered out—"It's time for decent folks to be in bed," I du believe I'd staid all nite.

"I THINK," said a wife who could not agree with her husband—"I think, Mr. Jibbs, we had better divide the house. You shall live on one side and I on the other." "Very well, my dear," replied he; "you take the outside, and I'll have the inside."

HEALTH OF COWS.

Good health in domestic animals, is always a matter of primary importance.

As bad health in parents, transmits a tendency to disease in the offspring, it is important that every kind of animals we desire to continue on our farms, should be kept vigorous and healthy.

As domestic animals are a source of human food, it is of great importance to preserve them in a healthy condition. Diseased meat carries its qualities into the stomach of its consumers. It is a serious objection which vegetarians urge against the use of animal food, that the artificial circumstances in which annimals live, and the bad treatment they receive, render them unhealthy. As an unhealthy animal does not consume food to as good advantage as a well one, it is economical to avoid disease.

As comparative misery and discomfort accompany disease, it is humane as well as economical, to see that the animals under our care enjoy as far as possible their creature comforts.

Each of these circumstances is a sufficient reason for guarding with scrupulous care, the health of the animals we feed; but when we derive milk from animals it is doubly important that they are kept free from every objectionable taint. A sickly cow not only yields a diminished profit, but she yields a sickly milk, and sickly in a higher degree than her flesh.

If a cow eats anything that has a strong or disagreeable odor, it appears in her milk.

If a cow eats anything medicinal it comes out in her milk.

If she is feverish her milk shows it.

If she has sores about her, pus may be found in her milk.

If she is fed upon decayed or diseased food, her milk, since it is derived from her food, will be imperfect. It is as impossible to make good milk from bad food, as to make a good building from rotten timber.

THE BUTTER SEASON.

The business of cheese making will soon be over and that of butter in order. The cool weather of autumn is the most favorable season of the year for making butter, and it should be the aim of every farmer or dairyman to produce the best possible article for market purposes. There is no disguising the fact that, with good cows, ample feed and much experience in butter making, many persons succeed in making a villainous compound of grease, milk and hair, designated by the name of butter but having no legitimate relationship to it. Much of the butter of commerce is of this character—a fact for which there is no excuse.

Clean milking, clean pails, pans, crocks and churns, are the first requisites to the production of a good article of butter. This everybody knows, without being informed of it, but the trouble is, the practice is not up with the information possessed. Here is where reform, in many cases, should commence—followed by a kindred amendment in the manner of converting the cream into butter. If the buttermilk is not thoroughly worked out, a good article cannot be produced; if the salt used is foul, of poor quality and injudiciously applied—too much or too little—the butter will not be of good quality nor command a top price in the market.

Sometimes all the prerequisites to success are observed, and still a failure ensues from neglect in putting the butter down. This is important, if any considerable time is likely to intervene between the manufacture and use. It is safest and best to put butter down as though months were to pass before consumption, as the trouble and expense are little, if any, increased by the precaution. Press closely in the tubs, which should be well cleaned and brined before being used, and, as far as possible exclude the air from the mass. When a crock or tub is full, sprinkle it well with pure rock salt and cover till wanted, and the chances are ninety-nine in a hundred that the butter will do credit to the maker months after being put down. Nothing new is claimed for this, but it is sometimes profitable to be reminded of things with which we have long been conversant, but, for the moment forgotten.—Rural New Yorker.

SIGNING THE PLEDGE—IN HIS OWN WAY.—A man long noted for intemperate habits was induced by Rev. John Abbott, to sign the pledge, "in his own way," which he did in these words:

"I pledge myself to drink no intoxicating drinks for one year."

Few believed he would keep it; but at the end of the year he again appeard at a temperance meeting, without having touched a drop.

"Are you going to sign again?" asked Mr. Abbott.

"Yes," replied he, "if I can do it in my own way."

And accordingly he signed the pledge for ninety-nine years.

"And if," said he, "I live to that time it is my intention to take off a life lease."

A few days after, he called on the tavern keeper, who welcomed him back to his old hannts,

"Oh, landlord," said he as if in pain, "I have such a lump on my side."

"That's because you have stopped drinking," said the landlord. "You won't live long if you keep on."

"Will drinking take that lump away?"

"Yes, and if you don't drink," you'll soon have a lump on the other side.—Come let's have a drink together," and he poured out two glasses of whisky.

"I reckon I won't drink," said the former inebriate, "especially, if keeping the pledge will bring another lump, for it isn't very hard to bear, after all," and with this he drew the lump—a roll of greenbacks from his side pocket, and walked off, leaving the landlord to his reflections.

THE RECONSTRUCTION FARCE IN VIRGINIA.

Last week an "election" was held in that part of Military Reconstruction District No. 1, comprised in what remains of the grand old Commonwealth of Virginia. If anything were wanting to prove the diabolical character of the despotism erected by the Reconstruction Acts, this "election" would amply supply the deficiency. The scenes enacted at Richmond, Lynchburg, Petersburg and elsewhere, whilst the voting was going on, beggar description. Violence, riot and bloodshed, were the order of the day. Arrests by the police, and rescues by mobs of blacks, were alternate incidents around the polls and throughout the streets and squares of the principal cities. If a disorderly negro was put under arrest by the police, a riot immediately ensued, and then came the cavalry squadron, charging with sabre drawn, to disperse the infuriated crowd. If a negro attempted to vote the conservative ticket, he was assailed by the blacks of the "League," pelted with stones, and beaten with clubs, until death, or a cavalry charge, closed the scene. And thus the farce, tinged with streaks of the bloodiest tragedy, was played to its end. The curtain fell upon the prostrate form of Liberty, the assassin Hunnicut standing defiantly upon the stage, brandishing his bloody dagger in triumph, amid the discordant yells of a pandemonium of negro furies. Virginia was Africanized and the only possible end of Congressional Reconstruction was accomplished.

But we recoil from further contemplation of the subject. If the recital of facts which are patent to the eyes of all, could add any force to the self-evident arguments against the revolutionary and pernicious measures of Congress, we would not shrink from giving them in full detail. It is, however, unnecessary to dwell upon the disgusting theme. The sensible, sober-thoughted people of the North, have already seen enough of the "Congressional plan," to convince them of its monstrous character, as well as of its utter futility. The glaring fact, that the government of each and every one of the excluded States, is turned over to a herd of ignorant and brutal blacks, to the exclusion of nine-tenths of the whites, has settled the question against Congress, and no matter how "elections" held at the point of the bayonet, may result, "Reconstruction" is as dead as Julius Cesar. Requiescat in pace.

"A POOR excuse is better than none." Upon this principle our Radical brethren are trying to console themselves over their recent defeats. They tell us that their vote was not out, that there was great apathy in their ranks, whilst the Democrats polled their full vote, &c., &c. They don't seem to realize the fact that there is hardly an election district in the State, in which some of those who formerly voted their ticket, did not this year cast their ballots for the Democratic candidates. Considering that no pecuniary advantage, or official patronage, attaches to the office of Supreme Judge, (the only State office voted for) there was a very heavy vote polled. It was never exceeded, except last year, and is larger than the home vote cast for President in 1864. It exceeds by 80,000, the vote of 1865, when the "Republicans" carried the State by 22,660! Let those who talk about the apathy in the Radical ranks, remember this fact, that in 1865, the Republicans polled but 238,400, and carried the State, as above stated, by 22,660 majority, whilst this year they polled 266,824, or 28,424 more votes than in 1865, and yet are beaten 1,000. A little study of these figures will enable the dullest intellect to discover, that it was not "apathy," but re-action, that defeated the Radicals at the late election.

THE "best abused" individual, just now, is General Apathy. Andrew Johnson is no-where, compared with him. Doubtless, the lazy, dozing fellow is grievously in fault, but, after all, he is not so much to blame for the collapse of the Radical party, as the people themselves. Take Ohio, for instance. The largest vote ever polled in the State, was cast at the late election. Last year the vote of the State was 469,908, this year it is 484,227, showing an increase of 14,319. The Democratic vote increased 27,016, whilst the Radical vote decreased 12,697, proving that there was an actual change from the latter to the former of, at least, the last named number of voters. This is the result of re-action, not of apathy.

CAN the Inquirer inform us what has become of the Borie vs. Trott case?

FRAUD.

As usual the Radical tricksters have undertaken to play their game of 'counting-out' the Democratic candidates, and their machinery was well prepared for the execution of their nefarious purpose. Taking advantage of the Act of Assembly which provides for the reception of the vote of soldiers in actual service, under a requisition of the President of the United States, or by authority of the Commonwealth, they had Governor Geary issue a commission to one of their tools, authorizing him to proceed to the regular army, and take the votes of persons outside of the Commonwealth, in the service of the United States. Accordingly this person proceeded to Fort Delaware, and notwithstanding remonstrances of the officer commanding the Fort, opened an election, and made a return of 118 votes, 113 for Williams and 5 for Sharswood. (Of course the 5 votes for Sharswood were returned "to keep up appearances.") This return was counted by the Philadelphia Republican Judges, and lessens Judge Sharswood's official majority just 108 votes, his true majority being 1030, whilst the Fort Delaware fraud reduces it to 922. Major Morgan, the commander of the Fort, writes to W. L. Hirst, Esq., of Philadelphia, that but 33 votes were polled in all, and that the grater portion of those who voted had no right to vote for Pennsylvania officers. This fraud, having been so thoroughly exposed, the Radical plotters, covered with shame, in order to draw the attention of the public from their own infamy, commenced a contest for some of the local offices in Philadelphia, based upon the allegation of frauds in some of the wards of that city. This is only the old dodge of crying "stop thief," and we are well convinced that nothing will come of it but idle gossip. The Fort Delaware fraud cannot be covered up by any such stale tricks, and the men engaged in it, from Governor Geary, to the miserable knave who forged the return, even if they be not punished by the laws, will sink beneath the contempt and indignation of right-thinking men of all parties.

THE history of the Republican party in the United States is the history of progress and liberty. Were it to die tomorrow, it would leave such a record as no other party in the history of the world has left.—Inquirer.

There is not the slightest doubt about that! It freed and enfranchised three millions of brutish blacks, to make them slaves of a midnight League, which compels them to vote at the point of the bayonet, and it enslaved five millions of white people who are not permitted to take any part in the government under which they live. It made prison-pens of the forts and public buildings of the country, and cast men innocent of crime, into loathsome dungeons, to suffer ineffable tortures and die a death of horror. It doomed men to ignominious punishments, without judge or jury, simply because they chose to hold and avow political opinions opposed to its own peculiar dogmas. It even hung up a defenceless woman, after heartlessly mocking the tender sensibilities of her nature, by exposing her to the devilish burlesque of a trial before a military commission. Finally, it would up by piling upon the country a debt that weighs the people to the earth, by imposing upon us a most unjust, because unequal, system of taxation, by inventing a plan to keep ten States out of the Union, at an enormous expenditure of the people's money, by erecting a military despotism over those States, and to close the scene, by placing ten millions of white people under the domination of three millions of blacks. Verily, "such a record no other party in the history of the world has left," and, God be thanked! that record is about coming to an end.

THE original order of Gen. Schofield, in regard to the holding of the election in Richmond and other large cities in Virginia, named two days upon which the voting was to be done. On closing the polls on the second day, it was discovered that there was a white majority of about 500. As such a result was not "on the bills," the polls were re-opened, and another day and night were given Hunnicutt to drum up his blacks, and the voting of negroes was kept up all that day and night, until the white vote was overcome. Great God! what a mockery of the elective franchise, is an "election" like that!

JUDGE WOODWARD has been elected to Congress from the Luzerne and Susquehanna district, by a majority of upwards of 600. He was elected to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Hon. Charles Dennison. Judge Woodward was in Europe at the time of his nomination and election, and knew nothing of the action of his friends in making him a candidate. His presence in Congress will produce a rattling among the dry bones of Radicalism.

THE Republican party must raise itself above these "rings" formed for mere spoils, or die of corruption.—Inquirer.

Is it possible? Can it be? We are overwhelmed with amazement! The "Republican" party dying of "corruption!" This confession, coming from the Bedford Inquirer, is truly astounding. When we said previous to the late election, that the "Republican" party was corrupt, the Inquirer was ready to swallow us, so enraged did it become at the "infamous Copperhead lie." But now it "acknowledges the corn." Republicans! What more do you need to convince you that it is your duty to leave this party that is dying of "corruption?"

GOV. BROWNLOW, of Tennessee, has announced himself as a candidate for United States Senator. We wish Tennessee could find some one to represent her who would add to the dignity of the United States Senate, rather than detract from it.—Inquirer.

Oh, ho! Your stomachs are getting a little squeamish, at last. We had thought Brownlow suited your taste exactly. But how can Tennessee find a decent man among the dominant party in that State, made up, as it is, of renegade rebels and brutish blacks?

THE Inquirer seems to favor legislation legalizing the running of street cars on Sunday, in Philadelphia. Tut! tut! that is not in accordance with "great moral ideas!" Take care, boys, lest you be "read out of the party."

ELECTIONS will be held in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Michigan, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, on Tuesday next. The Democrats are hopeful of carrying a majority of them.

THE NEGROIZING OF VIRGINIA.

The following article, copied from the Baltimore Sun, of Friday, last, will give our readers some idea of the working of Reconstruction in Virginia:

THE SUFFRAGE SPECTACLE IN VIRGINIA.—Whilst Ohio has refused, by an immense majority, suffrage to the comparatively small number of colored men in her population, Virginia, with her vast body of emancipated slaves, has just been subjected to the experiment of enforced negro suffrage in an election for a convention to form the organic law of the commonwealth.—We are much mistaken if the parade of returns from that election, and the figures, facts and incidents connected with it, do not greatly accelerate the reaction at the North which has been manifested in the late elections in Northern States. The spectacle which has been exhibited in the Virginia election may well cause all men of any capacity of reason and forecast, even in the radical ranks, to pause and reflect what is to be the end of such things. What we have just seen in Virginia is solid organization of blacks, as completely under the control of their leaders as an army under its general in time of war, not only marching to the polls to vote down conservative intelligence, but to vote down all moderate men, including those well-known as the prominent Union men of the State, and literally to hunt down, to pelt with stones and threaten to hang those of their own collor who attempted to vote the conservative ticket, and furiously to assault the police when they endeavored to protect conservative men of their own color from their violence. One illustration, out of many, of the manner in which the leaders of the blacks in Virginia have compelled their followers to draw the line between white and black, and make allegiance to one Hunnicutt, an aggrarian white radical, instead of Union principles, the standard of qualification in the late election of delegates to the convention, is the defeat of Franklin Stearns, Esq., in the county of Henrico. Mr. Stearns is a Northern man by birth, an original Union man of the strongest kind, a gentleman of high character, great energy, and fine business talents, and has large interests identified with the welfare of Richmond and Virginia. This gentleman recognized as one of the most influential republicans of Virginia, has been beaten by the president of a local negro league, who is understood not to have received a white vote in the county. Mr. Stearns has been altogether disinclined to go to the convention, and only consented in order to save the county from being represented by a man thoroughly incompetent. Another case is that of a well-known leading republican, Lewis McKenzie, Esq., of Alexandria, a gentleman of talents and political experience, formerly justly acknowledged by the colored men as their "best friend," who received only ninety-nine votes whilst the selected chief of the extremists received one thousand four hundred and eighty-seven.

The frauds in registration; the injustice of the apportionment, which, with a large white majority in the State, so arranged the districts as to insure a majority to the blacks in the convention; the contemptuous arraying of the blacks against old Union men; the infuriated and bloodthirsty assaults upon those of their own color who declined to vote their ticket, and whose lives were only saved by the interposition of the military and the police, furnish ample food for reflection of all in the North who read the returns of the Virginia election, and will intensify the reactionary tide which has already set in so strongly from Pennsylvania, and other Northern States, and has compelled radical leaders like Chief Justice Chase and the Governor elect of Ohio, feeling the ground giving away under them, to abandon an untenable and impracticable position and seek safety in more conservative ideas.

The reaction which has begun in the North, and which the scenes just witnessed in Virginia will greatly strengthen, arises from no animosity to the negro, and from no desire to interfere with that improvement of his condition and character which under a healthful law of progression, must take place, and which all men of just and benevolent dispositions, both North and South, desire to promote. But all sensible and right-feeling people can only see in the foolish and unnatural process which is producing such fruits of license and brutality as have been borne in the Virginia election, great injury and ultimate ruin, not only to the whites, but to the blacks of the South. The more reflecting of the blacks themselves in Virginia appreciate the danger of this state of things to their own race, and a prominent man among them, Solon Johnson, of Richmond, issued a card on the eve of the election in which he warns the colored men that the political slavery to which they are reduced by designing leaders, is a worse slavery than it was before, because it is of the mind; that they ought to avoid lines being drawn between the white and colored people; that the government was made for the good of all, white and black, and that if they persist in supporting the extremists of that State, their friends at the North, who will not permit them to vote among them, will not permit them to vote at the South. The colored men of Maryland, who have enjoyed greater opportunities of education and elevation than their race in more Southern States, cannot fail to recognize, with all intelligent men elsewhere, the force of the exhibition which has been made in Virginia, and the utter futility of such disgusting procedures to the advancement of their race. Anything so ridiculous and monstrous cannot stand—the evil must in time cure itself.

THE RADICAL FRAUD IN FORT DELAWARE!

Startling Disclosure!

The Way in which it was Done and Who Did It!

The following important telegram has been received by William L. Hirst, Esq., of this city, from General Townsend, in reference to the Fort Delaware election fraud. The document speaks for itself, and, at present, needs no comment:

WAR DEPARTMENT, October 15, 1867.
Wm. L. Hirst, Esq., 211 South Sixth street, Philadelphia:

In reply to your letter of October 12, received yesterday, General Grant directs me to send you the following copy of telegram just received from the commanding officer at Fort Delaware:

FORT DELAWARE, Oct. 14, 1867.
General E. D. Townsend, Assistant Adjutant General:

I was in Philadelphia when the election occurred here. Colonel Howard, who was in command, reports that a citizen presented himself here with a commission from Governor Geary, under the seal of Pennsylvania, appointing him to take the votes of Pennsylvania soldiers at this post. Colonel Howard told him that he was under the impression that such an election was not legal. But as the man had a commission from Governor Geary, he allowed him to take the votes. I add, on my own authority, that I have ascertained that a large proportion of the men voting had no vote in the State under any circumstances. It is said only thirty-three (33) votes were polled, while over a hundred (100) were returned. No officers were concerned one way or the other in this election.

(Signed) C. H. MORGAN,
Major Fourth Artillery,
Brevet Brigadier-Gen. Commanding.
E. D. TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General.

THE NECESSITY OF THE TIMELY DISTRIBUTION OF POLITICAL INFORMATION.—We recommend the following, from the Cincinnati Enquirer, to the serious consideration of the Democracy of Bedford county:

"The New York Tribune, in commenting on the result of the recent elections, makes the following suggestions:

"'Flooding the country with printed matter, on the eve of an election, is a desperate resort, better than nothing, that is all. No reliance can be placed on it; little good ordinarily comes of it. But begin now, and systematically insure that every man that has a vote shall have a newspaper, if he will take it, and all is safe.'

"That is very true. If it is desirable that the people be indoctrinated with correct political sentiments, they should be furnished with the arguments long in advance of the election, in order that they can thoroughly turn them in their minds, and study them while working at their benches, or on their farms, or other places of occupation. Now is the time to commence the distribution of information, in a printed form, preparatory to the next Presidential election. No election since the foundation of the Government, can compare in importance to the one we are about entering upon, and never before were the people so imperatively called upon to inform themselves as to the issues upon which the contest must be decided. We have gratifying evidence that the people, Democrats and Republicans, are awakening to the importance of this matter. Since the election we have received upward of three thousand new subscribers, daily and weekly, one-third of whom, we are written, are Republicans. The sign is an auspicious one, and we hope it will continue to be manifested for months to come. Every person who can afford it, should take two political papers, one of either side. If he cannot afford to take two, he should by all means strain a point to take one, and that one should be of his own political faith. Immense interests hang upon the event of the Presidential election of 1868, and every citizen should be prepared to meet the responsibility cast upon him as a voter. The newspaper is the cheapest instructor he can find."

NEWS AND OTHER ITEMS.

—Elisha Brady, a Radical ward politician of Baltimore, was shot and killed between three and four o'clock on the morning of the 22d ult., by John Bowers, whilst the former was in the act of cutting the halyards of a hickory pole erected by the Democrats. This was too great a punishment for the offence, we think, but Ben Butler did not think so when he hung Mumford at New Orleans for hauling down the the flag. Nor did Gen. Slocum (or Stanton) when he said: "If any man hauls down the American flag, shoot him on the spot."

—The full official vote of Ohio is in. It shows that the largest vote ever cast in the State was polled at the late election. It foots up 484,277, which exceeds any previous vote by 8,000. The republicans polled 242,605 for Hayes, and the democrats 240,022 for Thurman. Of sixteen congressional districts carried by the republicans last fall, seven now go democratic. The heaviest republican loss in any one district is 7,000.

—Mrs. Hoffman, the woman who was stabbed in church at Canton, Ohio, on Sunday, the 13th ult., by a divorced husband, died on Saturday last. Hoffman hung himself in his cell on Sunday night. He had tried to kill himself by bumping his head against a wall, but failing in this, made a rope from his bed-clothing and hung himself to the wall of his cell.

—FOR some time past, a company of outlawed freedmen, numbering about a dozen, have been squatted on Gen. Hampton's lands, within five or six miles of Charleston, S. —It is related that in Virginia City, Nevada, a poor widow, examining an old vest of her deceased husband, found a dirty paper in the pocket, which, on examination, proved to be the deed of three feet of a valuable mining claim. The secretary of the company informed her that it was genuine, and that $1,800 in dividends was due on it. She took the money, sold the dirty paper for $14,000, and went to her home and friends in the East.

THE PLAN of the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, for the endowment of the Riverside Institute for Soldiers and Sailors' Orphans, is one that has been laid out in strict accordance with the terms of the charter as granted for this purpose by the Legislature of Pennsylvania. This charter of the Washington Library Company, legalizes the very acts that its members are now performing for this noble object. The plan as most of our readers are aware, consists in selling stock at $1 per share, each share being accompanied by a handsome fine steel-plate engraving, worth fifty per cent more than is actually paid for the stock.—Besides this, every share of stock secures one present in the great distribution of presents to shareholders. Of these presents the aggregate value is $300,000, one of them being worth the enormous sum of $40,000, another $20,000, another $10,000, and one worth $5,000, and two worth $2,500 each, several worth $1,000 each, and so on. This is simply the plan in brief as adopted and presented to the public. Every shareholder will obtain some present in the great distribution, besides the beautiful engraving at the time of purchase, and each one has an equal chance of getting a small fortune.

DEMOCRATIC JUBILEE AT SCHELLSBURG! DINNER, SPEECHES, MUSIC, AND TORCH-LIGHT PROCESSION!—Pursuant to previous notice the Democrats of Schellsburg and surrounding districts, celebraied the recent Democratic victories by a mass meeting in front of the Exchange Hotel, which was organized by the appointment of the following named officers: President, JOHN SILL; Vice Presidents, Wm. Rock, A. E. Schell, Hugh Kinton, John Kemerer and John Rininger; Secretaries, John Otto, Jere. Black, James Statler. Mr. John S. Schell then stated the object of the meeting, after which speeches were made by O. E. Shannon, B. F. Meyers and Col. John H. Filler. The meeting was large and very enthusiastic. An elegant dinner was served up by mine host of the Exchange, Mr. Burton Edsall, which was greatly enjoyed by those who partook of it. At night there was a torch-light procession, which paraded the streets of the town, with pine lights and transparencies, making quite a brilliant display. Some of the transparencies were decided hits, and all of them were well executed. Our young friend John A. Snively is credited with the painting of the transparencies, and we must say he did it very cleverly. The procession was led by that veteran soldier of the Mexican War, Lieut. John Keeffe, who carried the Stars and Stripes. After the procession, the crowd again assembled at the stand in front of the Exchange, and after vociferous calls for Mr. John G. Fisher, that gentleman appeared, and delivered a forcible and entertaining speech. After Mr. Fisher had concluded, Col. Filler was loudly called for, and that eloquent champion of freedom stepped upon the stand, and entertained the audience with a speech that we have never heard excelled upon the stump, in vigor, pointedness and eloquence. The speaker was interrupted with frequent bursts of applause. The meeting adjourned with three cheers for Col. Filler, and three times three for the unconquerable Democracy. The Democratic Brass Band was in attendance and enlivened the occasion with most eloquent music.

ORGANIZATION OF A LYCEUM.—SAMBO IN THE WOOD-PILE.—One night last week some of our towns-folk resolved that they would make an effort to start a Lyceum, or Debating Club, and accordingly a number of them assembled at the Court House to carry their resolution into effect. There were some eight persons present at the meeting. M. A. Points, Esq, was called to the chair. The committee on Constitution (Messrs. Keagy and Schaeffer) made a report, which was read. One of the articles of this Constitution provided that none but white male citizens, of a certain age, should become members of the Lyceum. The reading of this article at once brought Mr. Durborrow, of the Inquirer, to his feet, who moved to strike it out. Mr. Keagy also "went back" upon his own offspring, and the rest of the Radical brethren followed suit. The motion to strike out the words white male citizens, was debated at great length, Messrs. Kerr, Koontz, Schaeffer, Berkstresser, Reynolds and others opposing the motion, and Messrs. Points, Keagy, Durborrow, et al., favoring it. Mr. Durborrow said that he wanted it understood that he was "one of those who are in favor of striking out the word white from the Constitution of Pennsylvania," and that he would not sign the Constitution if the words "white male citizens," were not stricken out. The scene was truly alarming. Things looked war-like. The Chair, terrified by the noise and confusion, ruled the article out of order, and the question was referred back to the committee. Such things may astonish our readers, but it is not at all surprising to us that some people prefer debating societies to be composed of themselves and negroes.

MUSIC AND LEGERDEMAIN.—Mr. J. H. Sharp, the Great Musical Wonder, and a Ventriloquist of more than ordinary powers, will give an entertainment to the people of Bedford, at the Court House, on Friday evening next, Nov. 1. He will give performances in sleight-of-hand, double voice singing, and Ventriloquism, and will appear in a number of amusing characters. Admission, 25 cents. Children under 12 years of age, 15 cents. Doors open at half past six; performance will begin at half past seven. We hope our readers will turn out and give Mr. Sharp, a good audience. We have seen him perform in private, and we must say that his double-voice singing, alone, is worth the price of admission.

THE OCEAN.—There is a beauty away out on the broad ocean, away from sight of land, when the lively breeze curls the top of every little wave into foam, and produces on its crest a little "white cap" or crown. But if you go to Berkstresser's fashionable clothing bazaar, you will find things of beauty and utility that are durable, and can be otained for little money.

TOO LATE.—The proceedings of the Bedford County Teachers' Institute, came too late for publication this week. They will appear in our next.

BUSINESS IN BEDFORD.—We adapt the following, from the Valley Spirit, to our own bailiwick: The election being over and our farmers having got through with the busy work of early autumn, a revival of business, which has been rather dull for some months, may with confidence be expected. Our merchants and dealers in all sorts of goods and wares are receiving their fall and winter supplies, and preparing to meet the wants of their customers. They have been able to buy on reasonable terms in the cities, and they are able to sell on like terms to the public.

If there is a single merchant or dealer of any sort in our midst who is striving after large profits, we advise him to change his course, and come down to "quick sales and small profits" at once. It pays better to sell one thousand dollars' worth of goods per week at a profit of ten per cent., than the same amount per month at a profit of twenty per cent. Let our business men of all classes determine that they will sell at the lowest rate of profit within the bounds of reason and fairness; let them make this determination widely known; let them sacredly keep every promise they make to the people; let their goods and their prices speak for them to all who may come to examine and inquire, and we are mistaken if Bedford does not soon transact a heavier business than she ever did.

We invite our friends, both in town and country, to make a habit of looking over the advertising columns of the BEDFORD GAZETTE. The dealers who advertise with us are anxious to do business.

If they were not, they would not advertise. The very fact that they advertise in our paper proves that they wish to sell to our readers. The man who wants to sell, and says so, may generally be relied on to sell at a fair rate, whilst the one who straightens himself up and pretends not to care whether he sells or not, will generally be found to hold his goods or wares as high as he carries his head.

To those business men who are not now advertising with us we would say, come in and ascertain our terms. We are not suffering for the want of patronage, but we are anxious to contribute to a revival of trade in this beautiful town of ours, and having advised our merchants and dealers to sell at the lowest fair rate of profit, we stand prepared to deal with them on the same liberal terms that we ask them to deal with the public.

PREDICTIONS ABOUT THE WINTER.—We see it generally stated that European meteorologists are predicting an early and hard winter this year, for the reason that the birds of passage have begun their migration southwards at least a month earlier than usual. Storks, wild ducks and other birds, are reported to be passing southward over France and Belgium in large numbers. Similar signs of a severe winter have, from time to time been noted in our country, and we are inclined to attach more importance to them than weather prophecies usually deserve. Meteorologists say a wet summer signifies a dry winter, and dry winters are always proverbially cold. Housekeepers should make a note of this inference, which we think will prove correct.

DEAD.—It is our painful duty to announce the death of Mr. John Amos, of Bedford tp., an old and highly respected citizen of this county. He died at his residence, on Monday morning last, after a lingering illness.

AUCTIONEERING.—Our friend, Capt. Wm. Gracy, of Ray's Hill, has taken out an Auctioneer's license, and now tenders his services to the people of his vicinity. The Captain is a good fellow, a brave soldier, and deserves success.

THE REGULATOR.—Don't forget to call at the Regulator's, and see Irvine and Statler's new stock of Boots, Shoes, Notions, Queensware, Groceries, &c. Their goods are of the best quality and they sell at the lowest prices.

NEW HARDWARE STORE.—We call attention to the advertisement of T. M. Lynch, in this issue. Mr. Lynch is the successor of Blymyer and son, in the hardware business, and has replenished the stock, with large and select additions.

NEW GOODS.—See advertisement of A. B. Cramer & Co., in this paper.—This firm are noted for the excellent quality of their goods and the fair prices for which they sell.

CLOTHING, &c.—Winter is coming, but Isaac Lippel's new stock of clothing and dry goods have come already. See inducements in advertising columns.

No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—Wm. A. Johnson Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class—Geo. Jardine, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cottage Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. Heintz, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—Bishop Simpson.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—Independent.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—Methodist.
Persons wishing to purchase an organ are requested to examine the Estey instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Churches, Bedford, Pa. jul26,'67

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requisite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These The World always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interest, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of The World for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. The World will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course, but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. The World adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, The World will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of The World, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, The World will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the The World prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The Weekly World, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York Argus has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
2. A page or more reserved for entertaining Fireside Reading for the Family circle, embracing the freshest and best Stories, Poetry, Religious Reading, etc., and a page for the Discussion of all Prominent Topics of general interest, political agricultural, financial, literary, etc.
3. Its Digest of the News is not, like most weeklies, a mere waste-basket of the Daily; only matters of interest and importance are chosen from the Daily, while the mass of its contents are prepared especially for the Weekly.
In every postoffice district there should be found some active, public spirited Democrat, who will confer a benefit upon us, his neighbors, and the cause, by counseling with his Democratic friends and making a determined effort to form as large a club as possible for the Weekly World.
The Semi-Weekly World is a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, which, by omitting a great mass of city advertisements from the Daily, contains all its news, correspondence, editorials, commercial and market news cattle market and provision reports, and a fresh and entertaining miscellany of literature. Published Tuesday and Friday.
The Daily World affords a complete compendium of, and commentary upon, the news of every day.
